III International Conference Urban e-Planning

AIMS AND THEMES

The 3rd International Conference on Urban e-Planning, organized by the 'International Journal of E-Planning Research', in collaboration with the Institute of Geography and Spatial Planning – University of Lisbon, will be held in Lisbon, Portugal, 3-4 April 2018. The IJEPR Annual Conferences are a multi- and interdisciplinary forum for the exploration, discussion and presentation of innovative theoretical and empirical research on Urban e-Planning. Following the successful Conferences of 2016 and 2017, the 3rd IJEPR Annual Conference on Urban e-Planning Research seeks both theoretical works and empirical research on ground-breaking approaches, innovative methods and new digital tools in the field of Urban e-Planning. We invite theoretical and empirical contributions, from scholars and planning practitioners. The conference also welcomes short presentations with a more practical orientation.

The Conference will address four main themes:
• Theme 1 -   Smart Citiies: Governance and Planning
• Theme 2 - Citizens e-Participation & Collaborative Planning
• Theme 3 - The real and virtual in Urban e-Planning
• Theme 4 - Theory, Ethics and Methods in Urban e-Planning
